

THE WEEKLY ARIZONAN

AUGUST 21.....1869.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Gov. SAFFORD has appointed Wm. H. Russell a Commissioner of Deeds, to reside in the city of New York.

We would call the attention of our readers to the notice of Edwin A. Brown, dated a Gila City. It is evidently a matter of much interest to the parties concerned, who should consider themselves fortunate in having valuable papers and money, belonging to them, rescued by strictly honest hands.

The individual who first suggested roofing buildings with earth ought certainly to be presented a leather medal. We have yet to see the first roof, of this material, which has been found proof against continued rain for 48 hours. A rain storm of only six hours duration, on Monday, deluged our office, and several other buildings shared a like fate.

Our Florence letter, this week, brings accounts of disputes about water privileges and land claims which, for some time, created much unpleasantness, but which have been satisfactorily settled. On Monday a party of men commenced work on the new road to Tucson; and upon the same day two enterprising citizens of Florence, Messrs. Stiles and Wilkinson, commenced the digging of a well on the new route between Florence and Camp McDowell.

Haik, ye Supervisors, who have been in session and will not let the people know what you have done: please bestow a little attention upon the condition in which the recent rains have left our streets. Look, for instance, at the gulch formed at the corner of Main and Vine streets—almost large enough to take in a full grown male; look, also, at every other street in town—consider what they are and what they might be—and if the view fail to arouse you to action, then resign at once.

MIGRATION:—An emigrant train, from Texas, en route to California, passed through this city on Wednesday. The train consists of forty wagons, accompanied by some 400 persons. This scientific immigration to California, a State already densely settled, is somewhat surprising, to say the least, and we should not be surprised to find three-fourths of these emigrants, within less than a year, flocking into Arizona to lay the foundation of homes such as California cannot offer to persons of limited means.

"SOLDS"—A certain persevering individual, known by the classic appellation Barroniski, last week, played some of our merchants a shrewd trick. The fellow is, decidedly, a speculator; having started himself in business at Camp Crittenden a few weeks ago, his apparent success gained for him the confidence of many of our merchants; of this confidence he availed himself, to the extent of about $3,000, and with this comfortable little sum left for parts unknown. This is the second instance of cold, deliberate swindling practised on our merchants, within a few months; and in neither case was an effort made to bring the swindler to justice.

MURDER:—On the 9th inst, a quarrel arose between two Texans, at the San Pedro Crossing. Which resulted in the shooting of a man named Dupont. It appears, from the evidence adduced at an investigation held here, that Dupont was in the act of beating a member of the party who was sick and unable to defend himself when a man named Walker interfered. Dupont, who bore the reputation of a murderer, rushed to the wagon in which lay his pistol, uttering threats against the life of Walker, when the latter, fearing that he would carry his threats into practice, pulled his revolver and shot him dead. Upon arriving here he was taken into custody, and it has been shown that he acted in self-defense, he was permitted to go at liberty.

Col. GAMES is still among the White Mountains spreading devastation among the savages. Reports of a semi-official character have just been received; they are considered quite reliable and to a great extent corroborate the statements published in the ARIZONAN last week: The Colonel came to an engagement with a large party of Indians, killed 15, captured a large number of horses, mules and burros and destroyed a vast amount of property, of every description, among which were 100 acres of green corn. The command met, in this region, three Americans who live with the Indians and spend their time prospecting. Col. Green is the first white man who ever dared penetrate this region at the head of a command. It was repeatedly attempted by officers of the Cal. Volunteers, but in every instance they met with opposition which compelled them to return without having gained any important information regarding the country. These mountains are said to be immensely rich in minerals; so it is just possible that the Colonel's expedition may be productive of other results in addition to the laudable achievements just related.

THE RICHEST DISCOVERY YET MADE:—Some time since, a man named McPherson made a discovery of what bids fair to be one of the richest silver mines found on the Continent. He succeeded in prying out masses of almost pure metallic silver. Being an old acquaintance of Gen. D. Roberts, one of the most successful miners of California, Mr. McPherson proceeded to San Francisco, at once, to report to his old friend who had means and influence to help him. A. Harpending, Roberts and others immediately secured the services of M. P. Arnold, an experienced miner, to come here and examine the mine. There being no troops at this place that could be spared to escort Messrs. Arnold and McPherson to the locality, Governor Safford and some eight or ten of our citizens volunteered to accompany them and on Tuesday morning started for the locality. We wait with some anxiety to hear the result of the expedition. We anticipate that it is the "coming mine" which the Inland Empire kindly volunteered to predict would be found in Arizona. If it prove so Putnam will be remembered.

FOUND:—Near Mission Camp, A. T., various papers pertaining to the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., signed by Captain, J. M. Williams, 8th Cavalry, June 30th, 1869; one order on Hooper, Whiting & Co., San Francisco, for $20, coin, and one roll of greenbacks. Address Edwin A. Brown, Gila City, A. T.
